In the above effort to tell his readers what was to do, and how long it would require to close up the entire business of the Convention, Mr. Gregg is guilty of a gross only and that was, to call upon Mr. Newman to state the truth. I do so. I ask Mr. Newman to give his testimony in this case.

Now, why was this resolution passed by the Convention?

For one of the most cogent of reasons, viz: If it had not been passed, the Convention must have remained in session at least a week or ten days longer, and at last have left some person to settle and certify accounts.

Mr. Gregg charged that the expenses of the Convention were $675 per day. Admitting thus to be correct, if the Convention had continued one week longer, the addition game law for that State; who first malmost alone. session at least a week or ten days longer, and at last have left some person to settle and certify accounts. Mr. Gregg charged that the expenses of the Convention were $675 per day. Admitting this to be correct, if the Convention had continued one week longer, the addition—all expense would have been about FOUR THOUSAND after the spirit of party bitterness,—sought to cast a fire brand into our deliberations? Every member of the Convention can answer: the editor of the Tribune, Again, Mr. Gregg says:—

with a spark of honest patriotism in his bosom, felt, that mainly accounts to this office for but as fellow citizens of one common State, charged, substitute adjustment.

To Country, La Fayette, Journal, Terre Haute, and Jacksonian, Rushville, will copy for 3 months and send accounts to his office for the community to his invaluable material for Roofs, knih the substitute of the salient substitute of the salient substitute of the salient substitute of the salient substitute of the s tive journal, and to contract for and superintend its binding and the binding of the Journal of Debates; also, to contract for fifty five thousand copies of the Constitution and the same number of the address—five thousand of the former to be in the German language.

Mr. English the Secretary of the Legisla premises I take to be this, that he had occasion, now and then, during the sittings of that Convention, to rap a fellow-delegate from Madison over the knuckles; though never, assuredly, except when he most especially deserved it.

I am, sir, your ob't serv't,

Mr. English, the Secretary, being only an officer of the Convention, had no voice in the adoption of meas-ures and no power to avoid the performance of the duties assigned him. He contracted, as ordered by the Conures and no power to avoid the performance of the duties assigned him. He contracted, as ordered by the Convention, for the printing of the Constitution, &c., and for the binding of all the Journals, and did so immediately after the adjournment. That he did not delay the execution of the work is shown by the statement of both Printer and Binder, which will be found in the appendix to the official report of the Auditor to the present Legislature, giving the expenses of the Convention. The latter says, "the binding of the Journals of the Constitutional Convention was not finished until the 1st of August, 1851, and the Secretary of the Convention always urged the completion of the work at the earliest period, and the same was done without any unnecessary delay." The work was completed then on the 1st of August, being 173 days after the adjournment, and 43 days ($176) more than Mr. E. asked or received. Mr. G. says, "to close up these matters it was thought it would require some three or four days." No intelligent gentleman "thought" early such thing. How could the account of the printer be closed and certified to before the 19th of June, or of the binder before the 1st of August, being the periods respectively of the completion of their work? But the religious punctiliousness of Mr. Gregg (b) seems to be greatly exercised because Mr. English drew pay for Sundays! In all deliberative bodies of this kind it is the well cattled rale that the mem. drew pay for Sendays! In all deliberative bodies of this kind, it is the well settled rule that the members and officers are entitled to pay for the whole number of days; so that, in this case, I neither established a new, nor violated an old rule or law. The fact that Mr. Gregg discovers in this Sunday allowance to Mr. English the present year, and the iron laid upon 160 miles in the home with his family, and attending to his private business, is indisputable evidence that Mr. G. is of that class of men who will strain terribly at a gnat, while they will easily take a camel down at a single gulph!

With reference to the committee on Enrollment, Mr.

The Terre Haute and Indianapolis railroad is now in complete operation, and active measures are being taken to ensure an early connection by railroad bet ween Terre Haute and St. Louis, with a branch to Alton, and same services, I allowed Mr. Reed $42, and Mr. Owen $45. The reason I did so, says this sapient editor, was because Mr. Newman was a Whig—the other two Democrats. The grossness of statements like this is too apparent to require denial of their truth. Its falsity is only equalled by the brazen impudence which enables Mr. Gregg to draw so largely upon the credulity of his readers. The truth of his matter is, that I pursued the same course towards Mr. Newman, as I did towards other members of the committee—I certified to him for the days he served. I cannot think that Mr. Newman sanctions the statements of this man Gregg, nor will I believe that any Whig, who was a member of that C. other members of the committee—I certified to him for the days he served. I cannot think that Mr. Newman sanctions the statements of this man Gregg, nor will I believe that any Whig, who was a member of that Convention, will do so, nor assert that they ever discovered, in all my official course as President of the Convention, that any partiality was shown to members of my own party, or that the politics of any man made a difference in my course towards him.

In conclusion: I regret the seeming necessity for my obtruding myself upon the public notice at this time—especially do I regret to come in contact with a member. In through traffic of the road, including the right of way, grading, bridging, superintendence, laying superstructure, etc., has been carefully computed at $998,932 00 being $11,007 per mile. The total estimated cost of the road, when thoroughly equipped, and furnished with Depots, Water Stations, Shops, etc., is $1,250,000 making the average cost per mile, $13,174.

The whole line from Indianapolis to Lawrenceburg is under contract for the preparation of the road bed, and furnishing cross-ties. The construction of the first 17 miles was let in 1849, and is now, together with some

MR. CLAY.—The Washington Telegraph says Mr. Clay is feeble, and subject to frequent changes, generally produced by the varying weather. He passes most of his nours in the day in sitting up, or promenading in his chamber. It is only occasionally that he is obliged to keep his bed in day time. When the weather continues favorable for any length of time his improvement is dways very manifest.

Again, Mr. Gregg says:—

Milton Gregg. I charge it upon him; and there is not a manufacturer. Now is your changes and in your orders.

ALFEED BORIB, Louisville, Ky.

I ittle wonder, that one who, after having taken an My present stock consists, in part of Again, Mr. Gregg says:—

"We find him certifying a regular per diem allowance of four dollars, Sundays included, to Wm. H. English, from the 7th of October, 1850, to June 19th, 1851, &c."

Now, no man knows better than this same Mr. Gregg that the pay of the officers continued after the adjournment was fixed by resolution of the Convention, which can be found on page 932 of its journal. That resolution was adopted by consent—the editor of the Tribune, then and there present, failing to raise his voice against it. He could not then, however, of course, have known how the first how how the truth of the charge.

Little wonder, that one who, after having taken an oath faithfully to discharge his duty as delegate to a Constitutional Convention, could prostitute his official station to the manufacture of party capital, should, for the same purpose, make an attack upon a man engaged in can be found on page 932 of its journal. That resolution was adopted by consent—the editor of the Tribune, then and there present, failing to raise his voice against it.
He could not then, however, of course, have known how scarce the Whig editors would be of capital in the next State election. If he had, no doubt the proceedings would have shown a bitter opposition!

Further: By reference to page 107 and 906 of said

Mr. English a gross fraud upon the public Treasury, same period. The distance from Chicago to Galena is and fails to find any thing culpable in the fact that I certified to his (Gregg's) account, Sundays included—together with not by any means a few days that he was at miles, over the Lawrenceburg and Upper Mississippi

Gregg says:

"When the committee was raised, or what were the duties assigned to it, we confess we know not, nor do the journals sufficiently enlighten us upon that point."

The Lafayette and Indianapolis road will be under travel this year, and the prospects of the western extension of the same road to Burlington, on the Mississippi are year forwardly.

In making the above statement he either exhibits a pittable ignorance, or a reckless disregard for truth. I cannot attribute it to ignorance; for, upon examining the journal of proceedings, I find that not five minutes before the Resolution providing for the raising of the committee was offered, Mr. Gregg was in his seat voting. The resolution was introduced by Hon. Win. M. Dunn, of Jefferson, Mr. G.'s colleague. It may be found on page 960 of the Convention journal.

The last, and most gross of Mr. Gregg's charges, is, that I allowed Mr. Newman only three dollars for his services on the committee on enrollment, while, for the same services, I allowed Mr. Reed $42, and Mr. Owen $45. The reason I did so, says this sapient editor, was obtrading myself upon the public notice at this time especially do I regret to come in contact with a member of the late Constitutional Convention. Having endeavored to preserve, during its session, the kindest relations with its individual members, nothing but an injustice done me, only equalled by its unkindness, could have drawn me out.

He did so, and in a short time returned, and purchasest another bottle, stating the first had had a decidedly good effect. She continued to use it until, after the use of five or six bottles, I had the pleasure of seeing the old bely herself at church. She assured me that she had almost entitled resourced her health, and from her I received the account five of six bottles, and in about the same words I give it to you This is but one of a number of cures under my observation—of tery remarkable ones—performed by the observation—of very remarkable ones—performed by the use of your Saraparilla, in my neighborhood. The demand for it has steadily increased since its introduction have.

For John Buil: Dear Sir—I have seen the most marvelless cure of one of my patients, by your valuable medicine an old lady, who had been afflicted from her childhood wha scrofula and various discusses of the brain. She was daily years cld. It had run into something like leprosy, and she was the most frightful creature my eyes ever beheld. I called in Dr. McFadden, a very fine physician, to contain with me in relation to her. We came to the conclusion that it was out of our power to relieve her; but, on going to my office, I accidentally picked up one of your Journals, when, on sceing the wonderful cures your Sarsaparills had effected, I resolved to try the experiment in this care. I took her two bottles of it, after taking which I perceived a great change. I took her some more. She is now taking the sixth bottle, and I consider her catirely cured. I take great pleasure in recommending your Sarsaparilla to the afflicted public.

Yours respectfully.

I. Thomas A Ringe of Graves Co., Ky., for the benefit of mankind generally. de hereby certify, that on or about the toth day of Getoler, 1847, I was attacked with a very exceep pain in the lower pari of the abdomen, which lasted but a less minutes, at d moved into the left hip, and continued exceedingly jourful for about five days, during which time I had a very light fewer. At the end of that time the fever coverd, and the pain abated for a day of two, after which it again returned, and was much worse than before. Buring all this time I was under medical treatment. From a short one after I was taken. I was anable to wall or stup the hip in which the pala was so but commenced ridge, until some time in January, when it burst, and a number of pieces of hone came out—as many as twenty, at least. Some of the pieces were three fourths of an inch long. Some time after this, a hard knot apas executy, at least. Some of the piecess were three-fourths of an inch long. Some time after this, a hard knot appeared on my right byp also one on my right wrist, and one on my legs, below my knee. I continued to get weak and worse, and pain made its appearance in my right shoulder, and would move in my breast and stomuch. At this time all persons gave me up to die. A physician thea told me that, as a last remedy. I had better use MR. BULL'S FILID EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA. After the use of the second bottle, the knot on my write conthe are of the second bottle, the knot on my wrist com-mented get lug soft. I opened it, and a day or two after a place of bone came out. My wrist soon got well, and I continued to gain strength. After I used the third bottle, concluded to gain strength. After I used the third bottle, I could get no more for some four weeks, after which time I succeeded in getting three more bottles. After using the there had bottles, the knot on my hip became soft: it was opened, and some corruption ran out together with a small piece of bone, and the sore soon got well, and the time entirely disppeared. The som on my leg also opened, and a piece of home same out. I continued the use of the Sarsaparilla until I used twelve bottles, and are now entirely well, and able to do daily labor. It may seem entirely well and able to do daily labor. It may seem strange to some, but I will here state that, during the sammer of 1840. I congled up three pieces of bone, which ran now be seen at the residence of my uncle, Thos Neal, where I now lise, and if any persons doubt this statement. GREAT CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA ANOTHER SCIENTIFIC WONDER DR. J. S. HOUGHTOM'S

The true Digestive Fluid, or Gastrie Juice.

PREPARED from Remain, or the fourth Stoemach of the Ox, after directions of Baron Liebig, the great Physiological Chemist, by J. S. Houghton, M. D., Palindelphia, Pa.

This is a truly wonderful remedy for Indigestion, Dyspepala, Jaundice, Liver Complaint, Constitution, and Debility, Curing after nature's own method, by nature's own agent, the Gastrie Juice.

Half a teaspoonful of Pepain, infested in water, will digest or dissoive, Five Pounds of Roset Beef in about two hours, out of the stomach.

Pepsin is the chief element, or great digesting principle of the Gastrie Jance, the solvent of the Food, the purifying, preserving, and stimulating agent of the stomach and actestines. It is extracted from the digestive stomach of the Ox, thus forming an Artificial Digestive Fluid, precisely like the natural Gastrie Julee in its Chemical powers, and furnishing a complete and perfect substitute for it. By the aid of this preparation, the pains and evils of indigestion and dyspepsia are removed, just as they would be by a healthy stomach. It is doing wonders for Deyspeptics, curing cases of Debility, Emaciation, Nervous Decline, and Dyspeptic Consumption, supposed to be on the verge of the grave. The scientific evidence upon which is based, is in the highest degree curious and remarkable.

SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE.

Baron lighting in his celebrated work on Animal Chemistry says.

Baron lacking in his celebrated work on Ammal Chemistry says.

"An Artificial Digestive Finist, analogous to the Gastrie Juice, may be readily prepared from the mucous membrane of the stomach of the Calf, in which various articles of food, as meat and eggs, will be softened changed, and digested, just in the same manner as they would be in the human stomach."

Dr Combe, in his valuable writings on the "Physiology of Digestion," observes that "a diminution of the due quantity of the Gastrie Juice is a prominent and a 1-prevailing cause of Dyspepsia;" and he states that "a distinguished professor of medicine in London, who was severely afficied with this complaint, finding everything else to fail, had recourse to the Gastrie Juice, obtained from the stomachs of living animals, which proved completely successful."

Dr. Graham, author of the famous works on "Vegetable Diet," says: "It is a remarkable fact in physiology, that the stomachs of animals, macerated in water, impart to the fluin the property of dissolving various articles of food, and of effecting a kind of artificial digestion of them in nowise different from the natural digestive process."

Dr. Simon's great work, the "Chemistry of Man." (London Pieces).

Dr. Simon's great work, the "Chemistry of Man," (Lee & Bianchard, Philadelphia, 1846, pp 321-2) says: "The discovery of PEP. SIN forms a new era in the eliemical history of Digestion. From recent experiments, we know that food is dissolved as rapidly in an artificial digestive fluid, prepared from Pepsin, as it is in the natural Gastric Juice itself."

All modern works on Cheraistry, Mate in Medica, and Physiology, and all good Medical Lictionaries, describe the character and properties of Pepsin, and state many interesting details respecting it.

The fact that an Artificial Digestive Fluid, or Gustric Juice, perfectly resembling the natural fluid, may be readily prepared, does not admit of question. The only wonder is, that it has not before been applied to the cure of Indigestion and Dyspepsia- so naturally does such a use suggest itself to the mind.

AS A DYSPEPSIA CURER,

Dr. Houghton's Pepsin has produced the most marvellous effects, in curing cases of Debility, Emariation Nervous Decline, and Dyspeptic Consumption. It is impossible to give the details of cases in the limits of this advertisement; but authenticated certificates have been given of more than two hundred remarkable cures, in Philadelphia, New York, and Boston alone. These were nearly all desperate cases, and the cares were not only rapid and wenderful, but perma-It is a great Nervous Antidote, and particularly useful for tendency to Billious Disorder, Liver Compisint, Fever and Ague, or badly treated Fever and Ague, and the evil effects of Quinine, Mercury, and other drugs upon the Digestive Organs, after a long sickness. Also, for excess in eating, and the too free use of ardent spirits. It almost reconciles health with intemperance.

A single dose removes all the unpleasant symptoms; and it only needs to be repeated for a short time to make these good effects permanent. Purity of blood, and vigor of body follow at once. It is particularly expellent in cases of Nansea, Vaniture Cramos Symptoms of the pip of the Stomach distress after Vomiting, Cramps, Saruness of the pit of the Stomach, distress after eating, low, cold state of the Blood, Heaviness, Lowness of Spirits, Despondency, Emaciation, Weakness, tendency to Insanity, Sulcide, Dr. Houghton's Pepsin is sold by nearly all the dealers in fine drugs and popular medicines, throughout the United States. It is prepared in Powder and the Fluid form—and in Prescription vials for the use of Physicians.

Private Circulars for the use of Physicians, may be obtained of Dr. Houghton or his Agents, describing the whole process of preparation, and giving the authorities upon which the claims of this new remedy are based. As it is not a secret remedy, no objection can be raised against its use by Physicians in respectable standing and regular practice. Price One Dollar per bottle.
